STAT

Thank you for writing CIA Director William J. Casey requesting a speaker for the Cincinnati Section of the IEEE in either January or March.

Mr. Casey has asked me to send his regrets that we are unable to send one of our employees to address your group. Unfortunately due to a shortage of personnel, we do not have a speakers' bureau per se nor do we have an analyst available.

Enclosed for your interest and information is our brochure Intelligence: The Acme of Skill. We thank you for your interest.

Sincerely,

Director of Central Intelligence

Dear Sir:

The Cincinnati Section of the IEEE holds monthly meetings on a variety of topics dealing with some aspect of Electrical Engineering. At times we have speakers from large organizations speak to us on their developments or programs. Since the Central Intelligence Agency is deeply involved with electronics, we would like to arrange for a meeting with one of your employees as a speaker. I am aware that much information is sensitive and therefore am asking for a description types of technical programs you may be able to present, if any at all.

A target date for such a meeting would be the third week of either January 1985, or March 1985. Your quick response will be deeply appreciated. If necessary, I can be reached on [redacted]
